Dear Mr. Conway,

filed
I'm glad to get the copy of your letter to The Nation. Thanks, both for writing it and for sending me a copy.

If you would be kind enough to send me a copy of your ~~nt~~ letter to the Globe, I'd appreciate that.

You say Kennedy was rifing a tiger. Tiger to Ride was the title of a book I'd researched and planned to write but wasn't and won't be able to.

I'd like to think The Nation got lots of complaining letters. They should have!

I'm inclined to think mine was the only one they got after Kopkind's article appeared but as mine trigger^{ed} the fine one by Fletcher Prouty and yours I hope it led others to do the same.

Fletch was in a strong position for spelling it out, too.

I don't know if those NSAM's have been published but if you have them or any of their content I'd appreciate copies. I've arranged to deposit everything I have at local Hood College, including this research, and it would be quite valuable to have anything relevant to add to the files. Then students and scholars of the future will have more at hand.

There were news stories that now appear to have been based on releases that were based on those two NSAMs. I hope they are still in my file, which I loaned to a student for a thesis that became a book on The Early History of the Cold War.

Thanks and best wishes,

Arnold Weisberg
